A large wooden deck is attached to a house with brown shingles and white trim. A large retractable awning with orange and white stripes covers the deck. On the deck, there is a dining table with chairs and a fire pit with chairs. The house has several windows and a decorative wall with a peace sign and other symbols. The background shows green trees.

J. Tinkle loved our products so much he came back for more:
“Zimmers installed an awning for us 6 years ago, and more recently added a Sunesta retractable shade screen. Everyone that we had interactions with, from the showroom, to the designer who gave us the estimate, to the installers on both occasions, were very knowledgeable, courteous, and professional. We’re very satisfied and would highly recommend Zimmers to anyone!”
